

If you give a Bat a Cape

mikaya Gorzeman-mehr

If you give a bat a cape then he will want a mask to go with it. Once he has a mask he will then want a comic book to read to find out his true Super power

When he has found out about the Spidey Sense, his true Superpower he will then ask for a handy dandy utility belt.

From Grandma

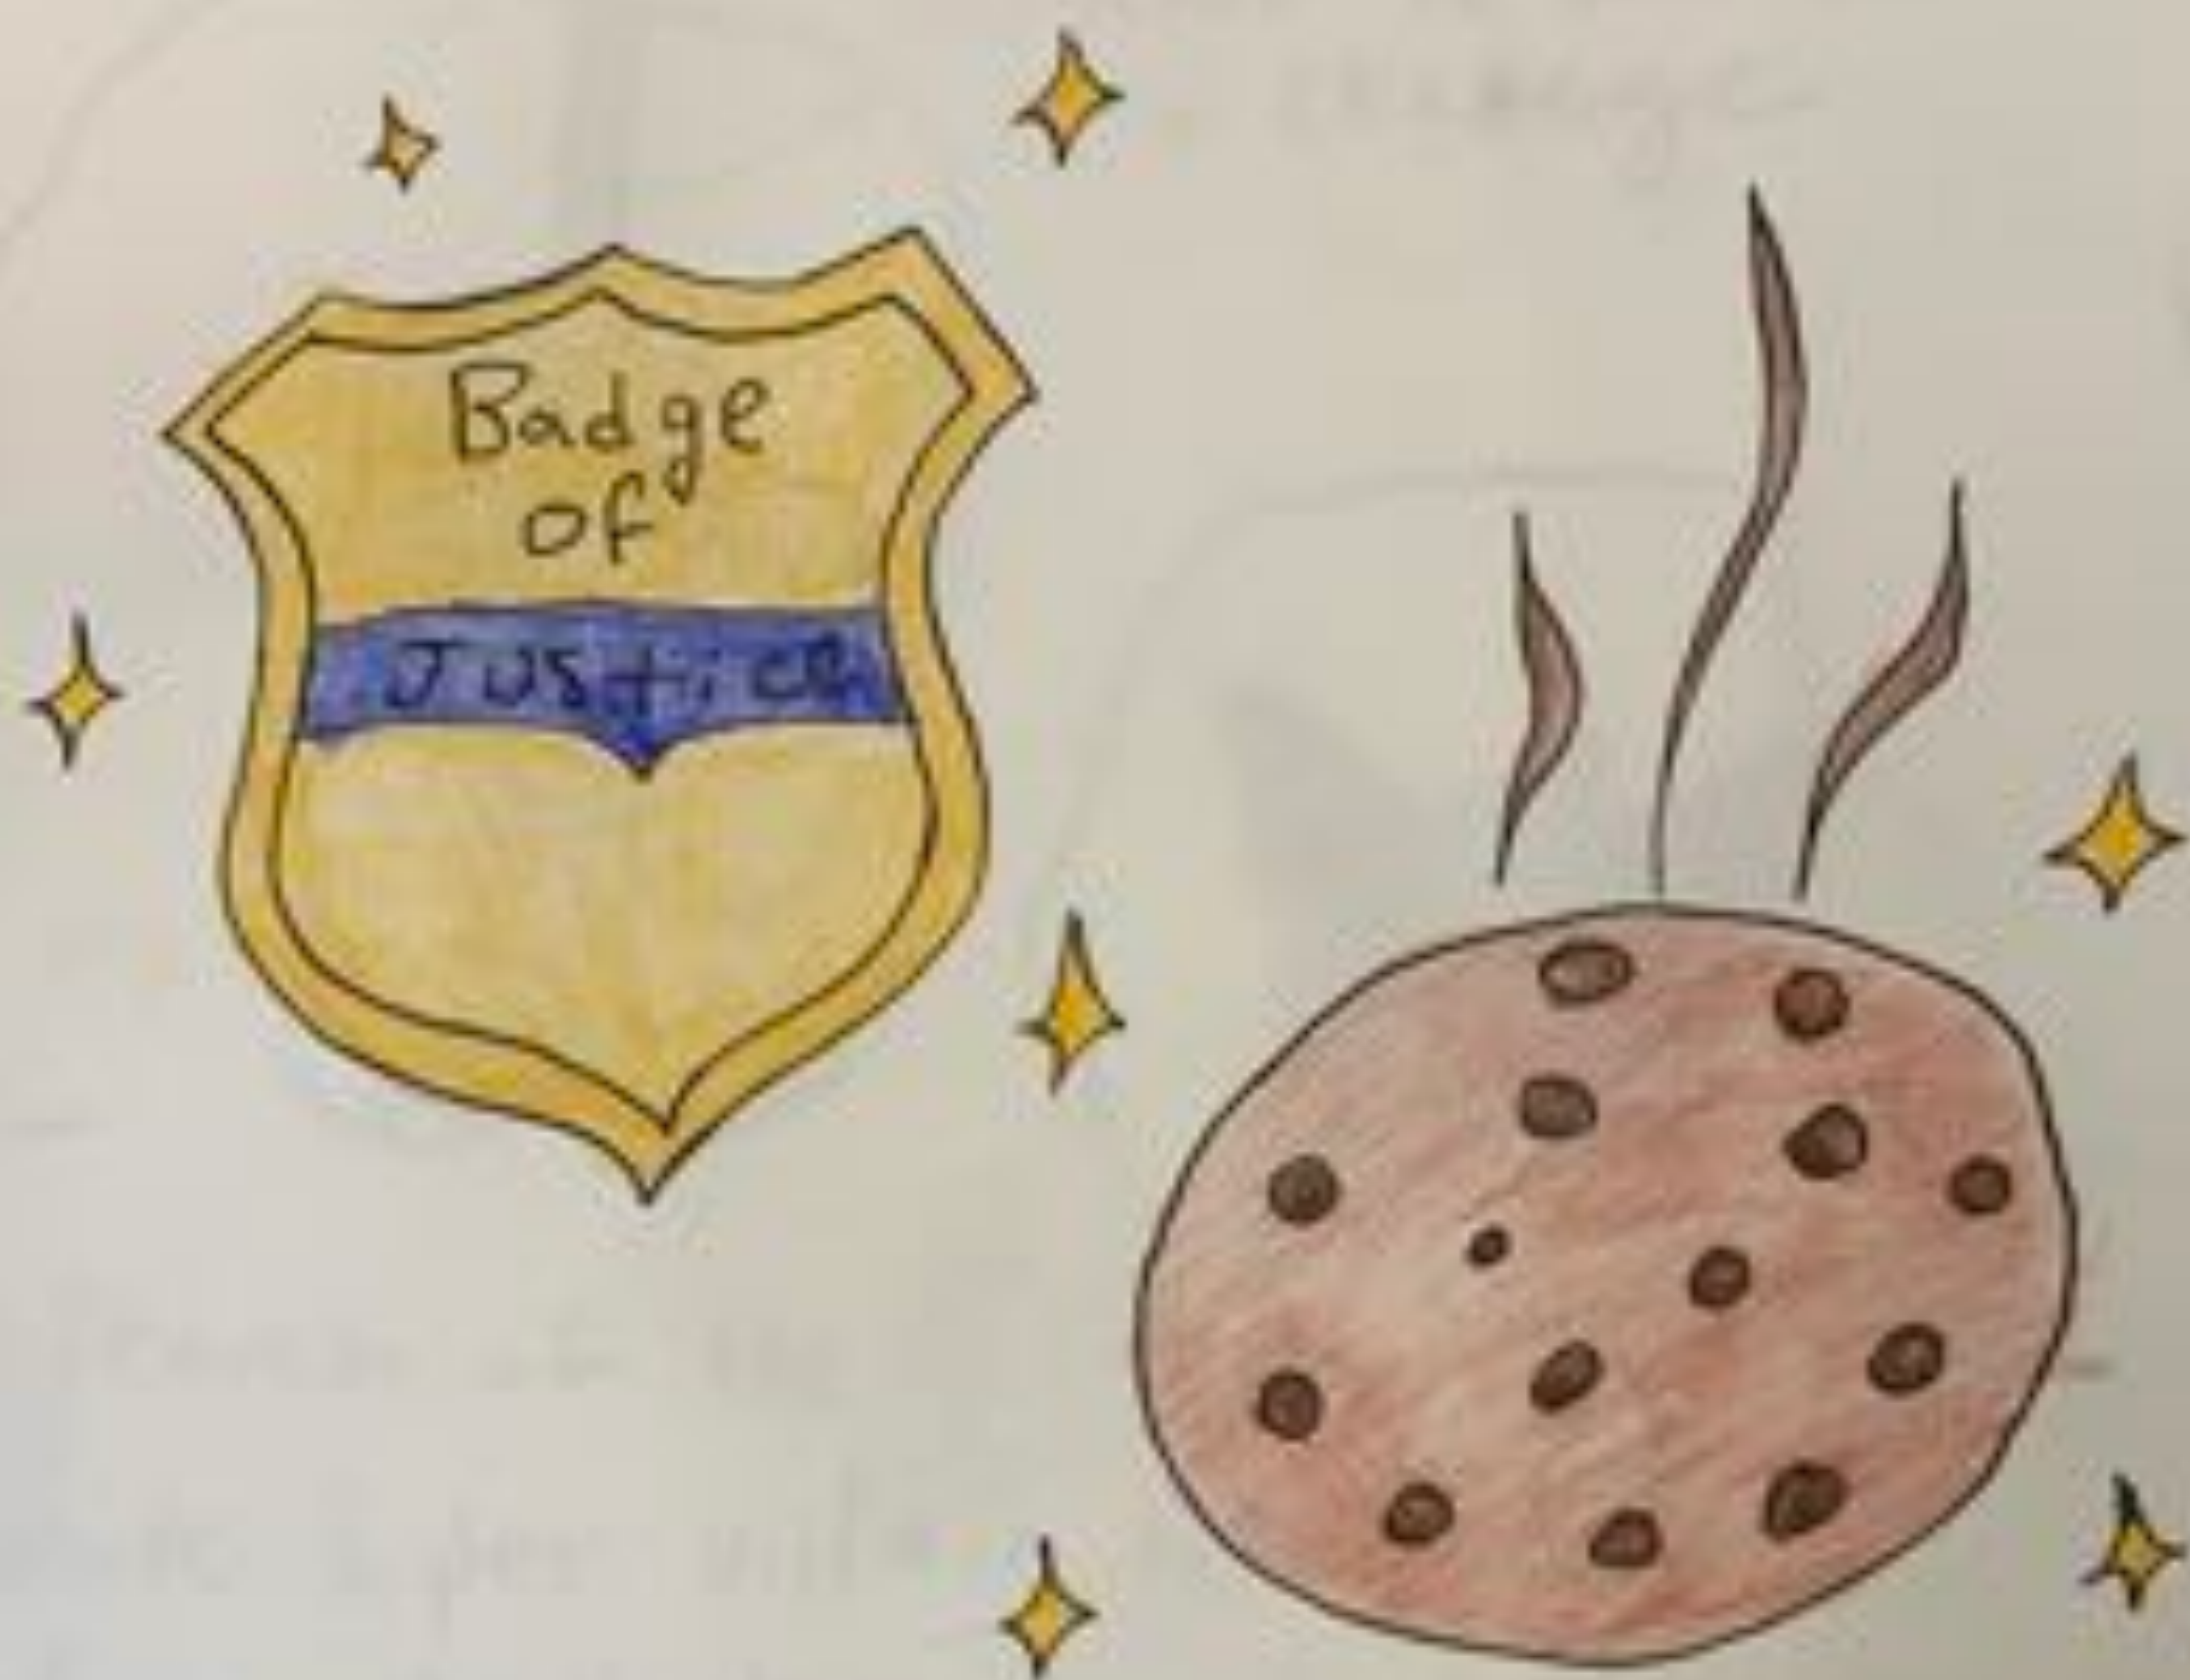

From Grandpa

Once he asks for a belt he will want some boots to help him be ready to fight Crime in Style!

After the boots he will be ready to fight his first villain using his spidey sense, something small to test out his powers. If he starts to fight evil then his spidey sense will show his trusted sister taking his favorite cookie from the jar. When he finds his prize his sister will get in big trouble for stealing his cookie.

Of course he will then ask for a reward for his kind services to bat kind. His favorite cookie, the Double chocolate chip and nothing more.

Now having conquered the evil of the notorious Cookie Snatcher he will want more of a challenge

In search of the ultimate super villain he will listen to the hushed rumors said by the good people of New Caveston. He hears of a terrifying silver beast just outside the cave that has defeated all who stood before them.
By making them sick if they get too close.

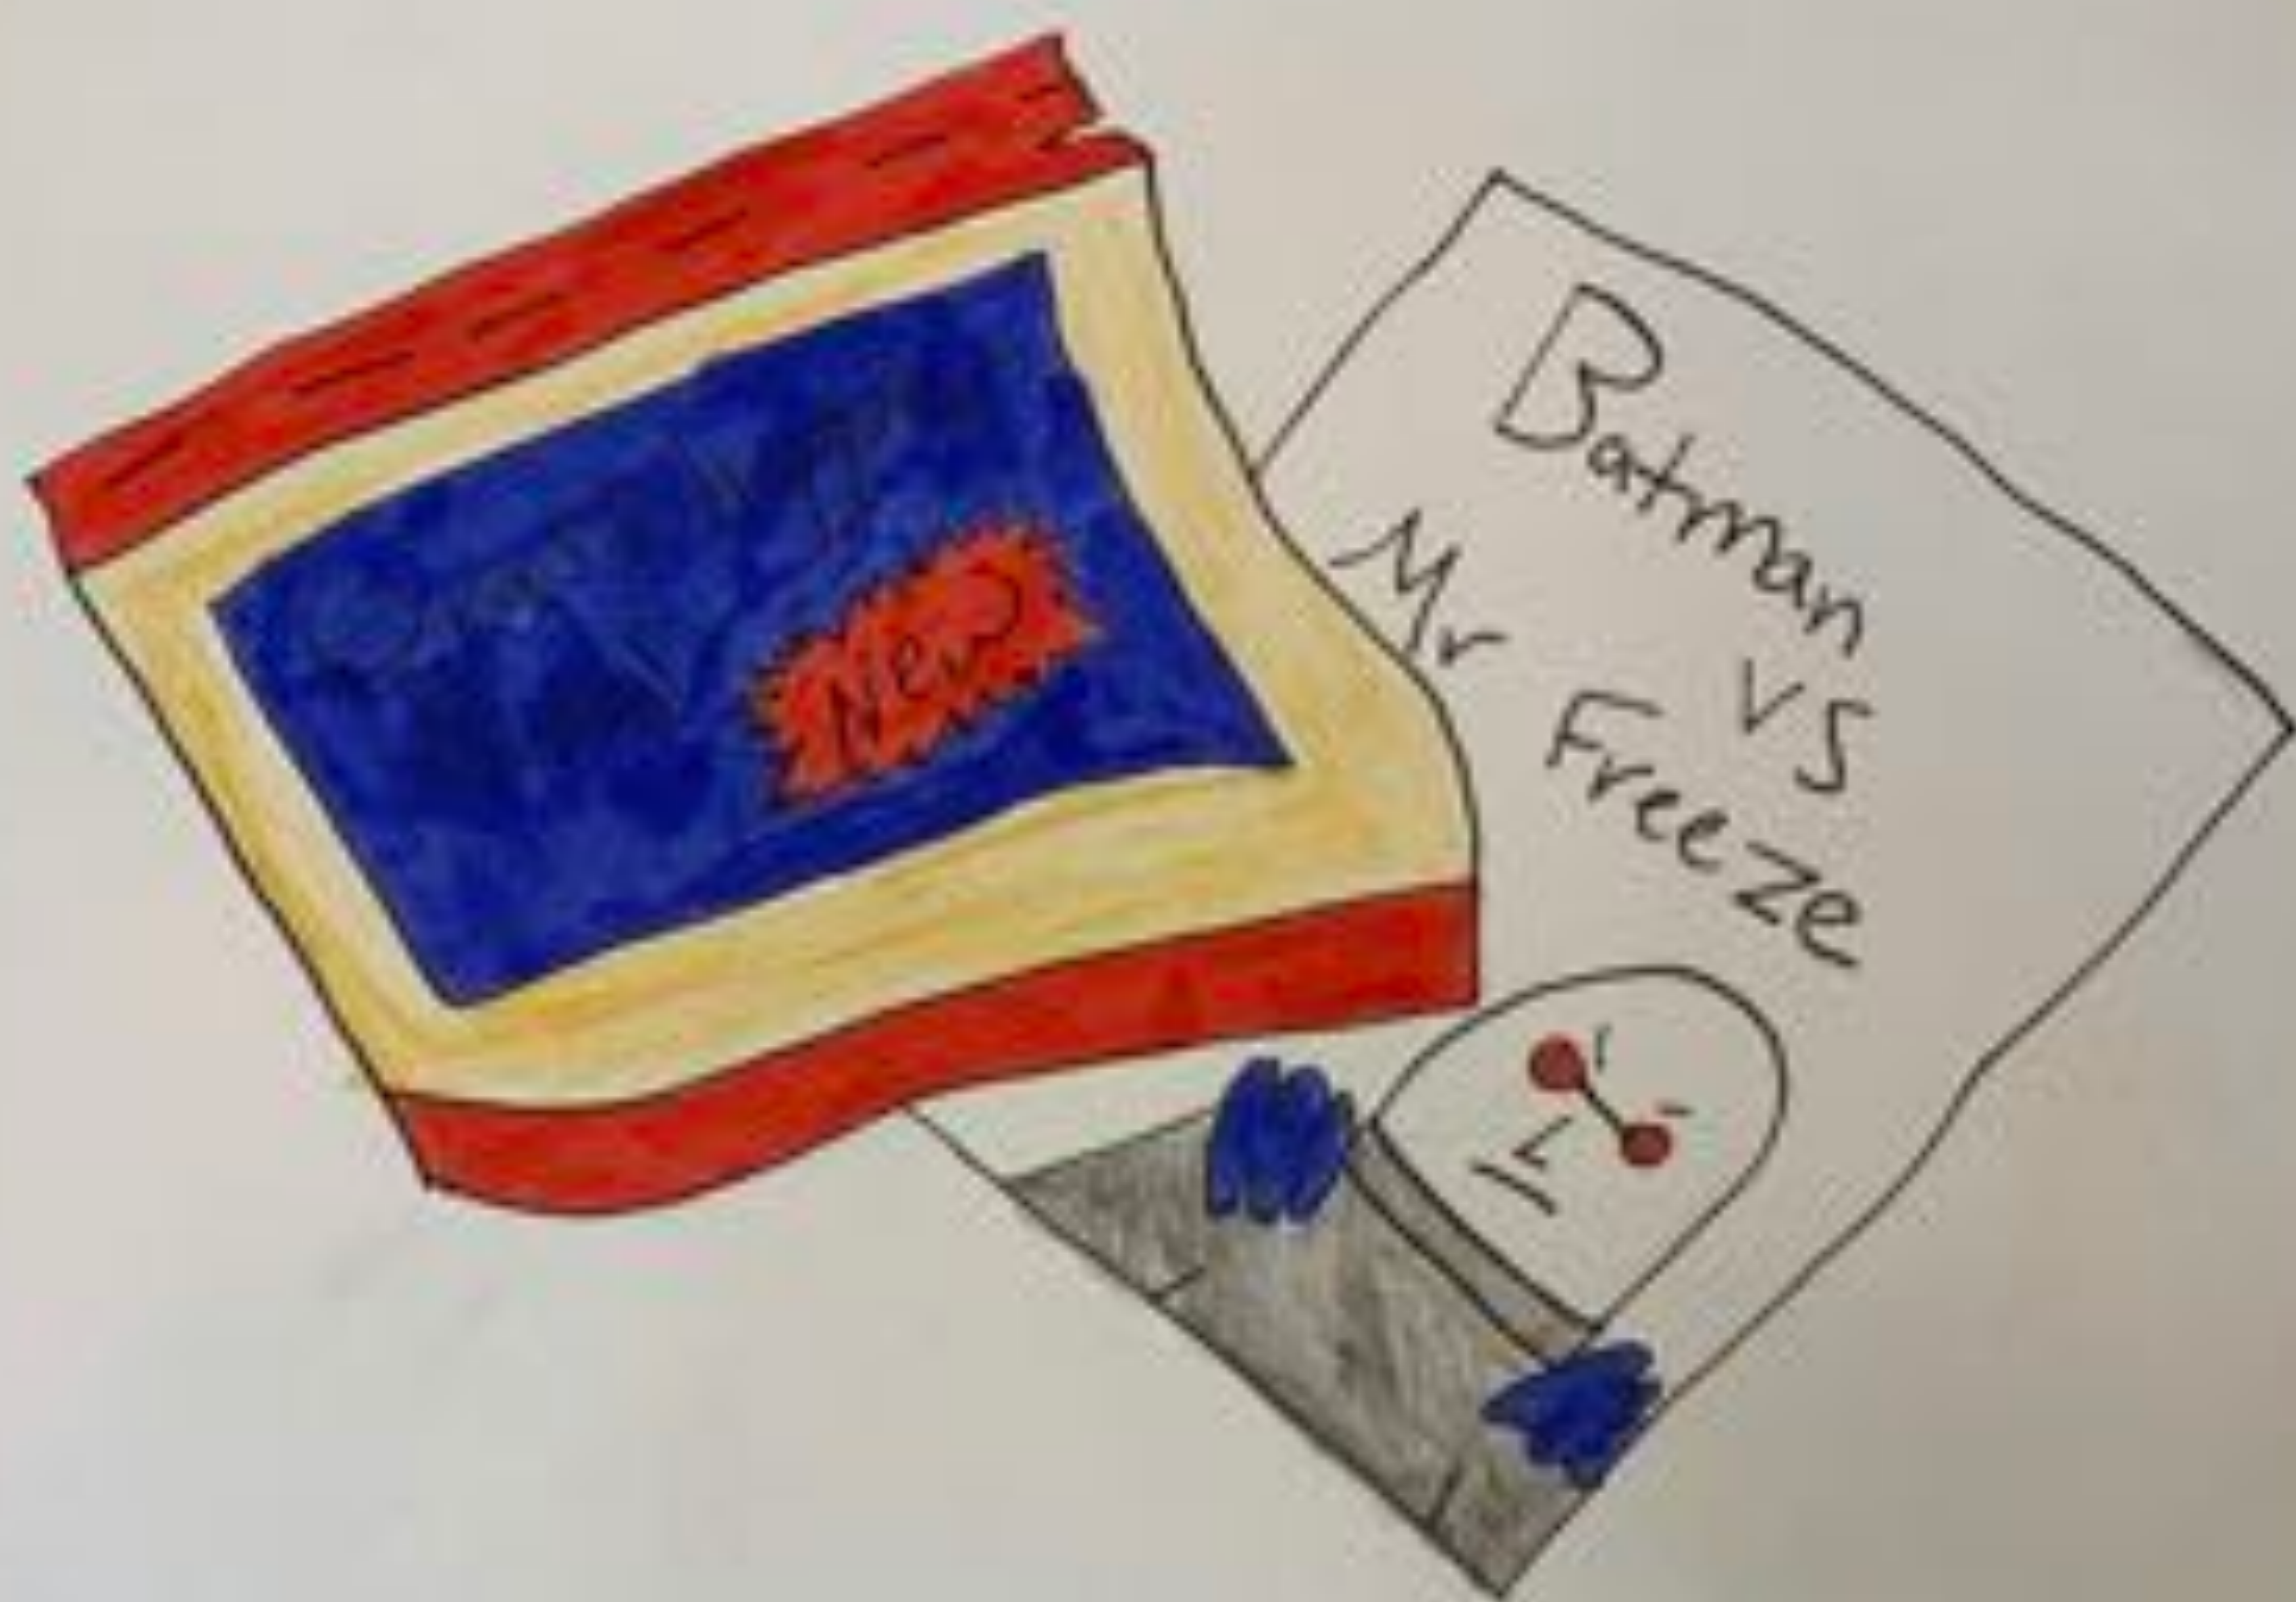

Dr.

Bad

Breath

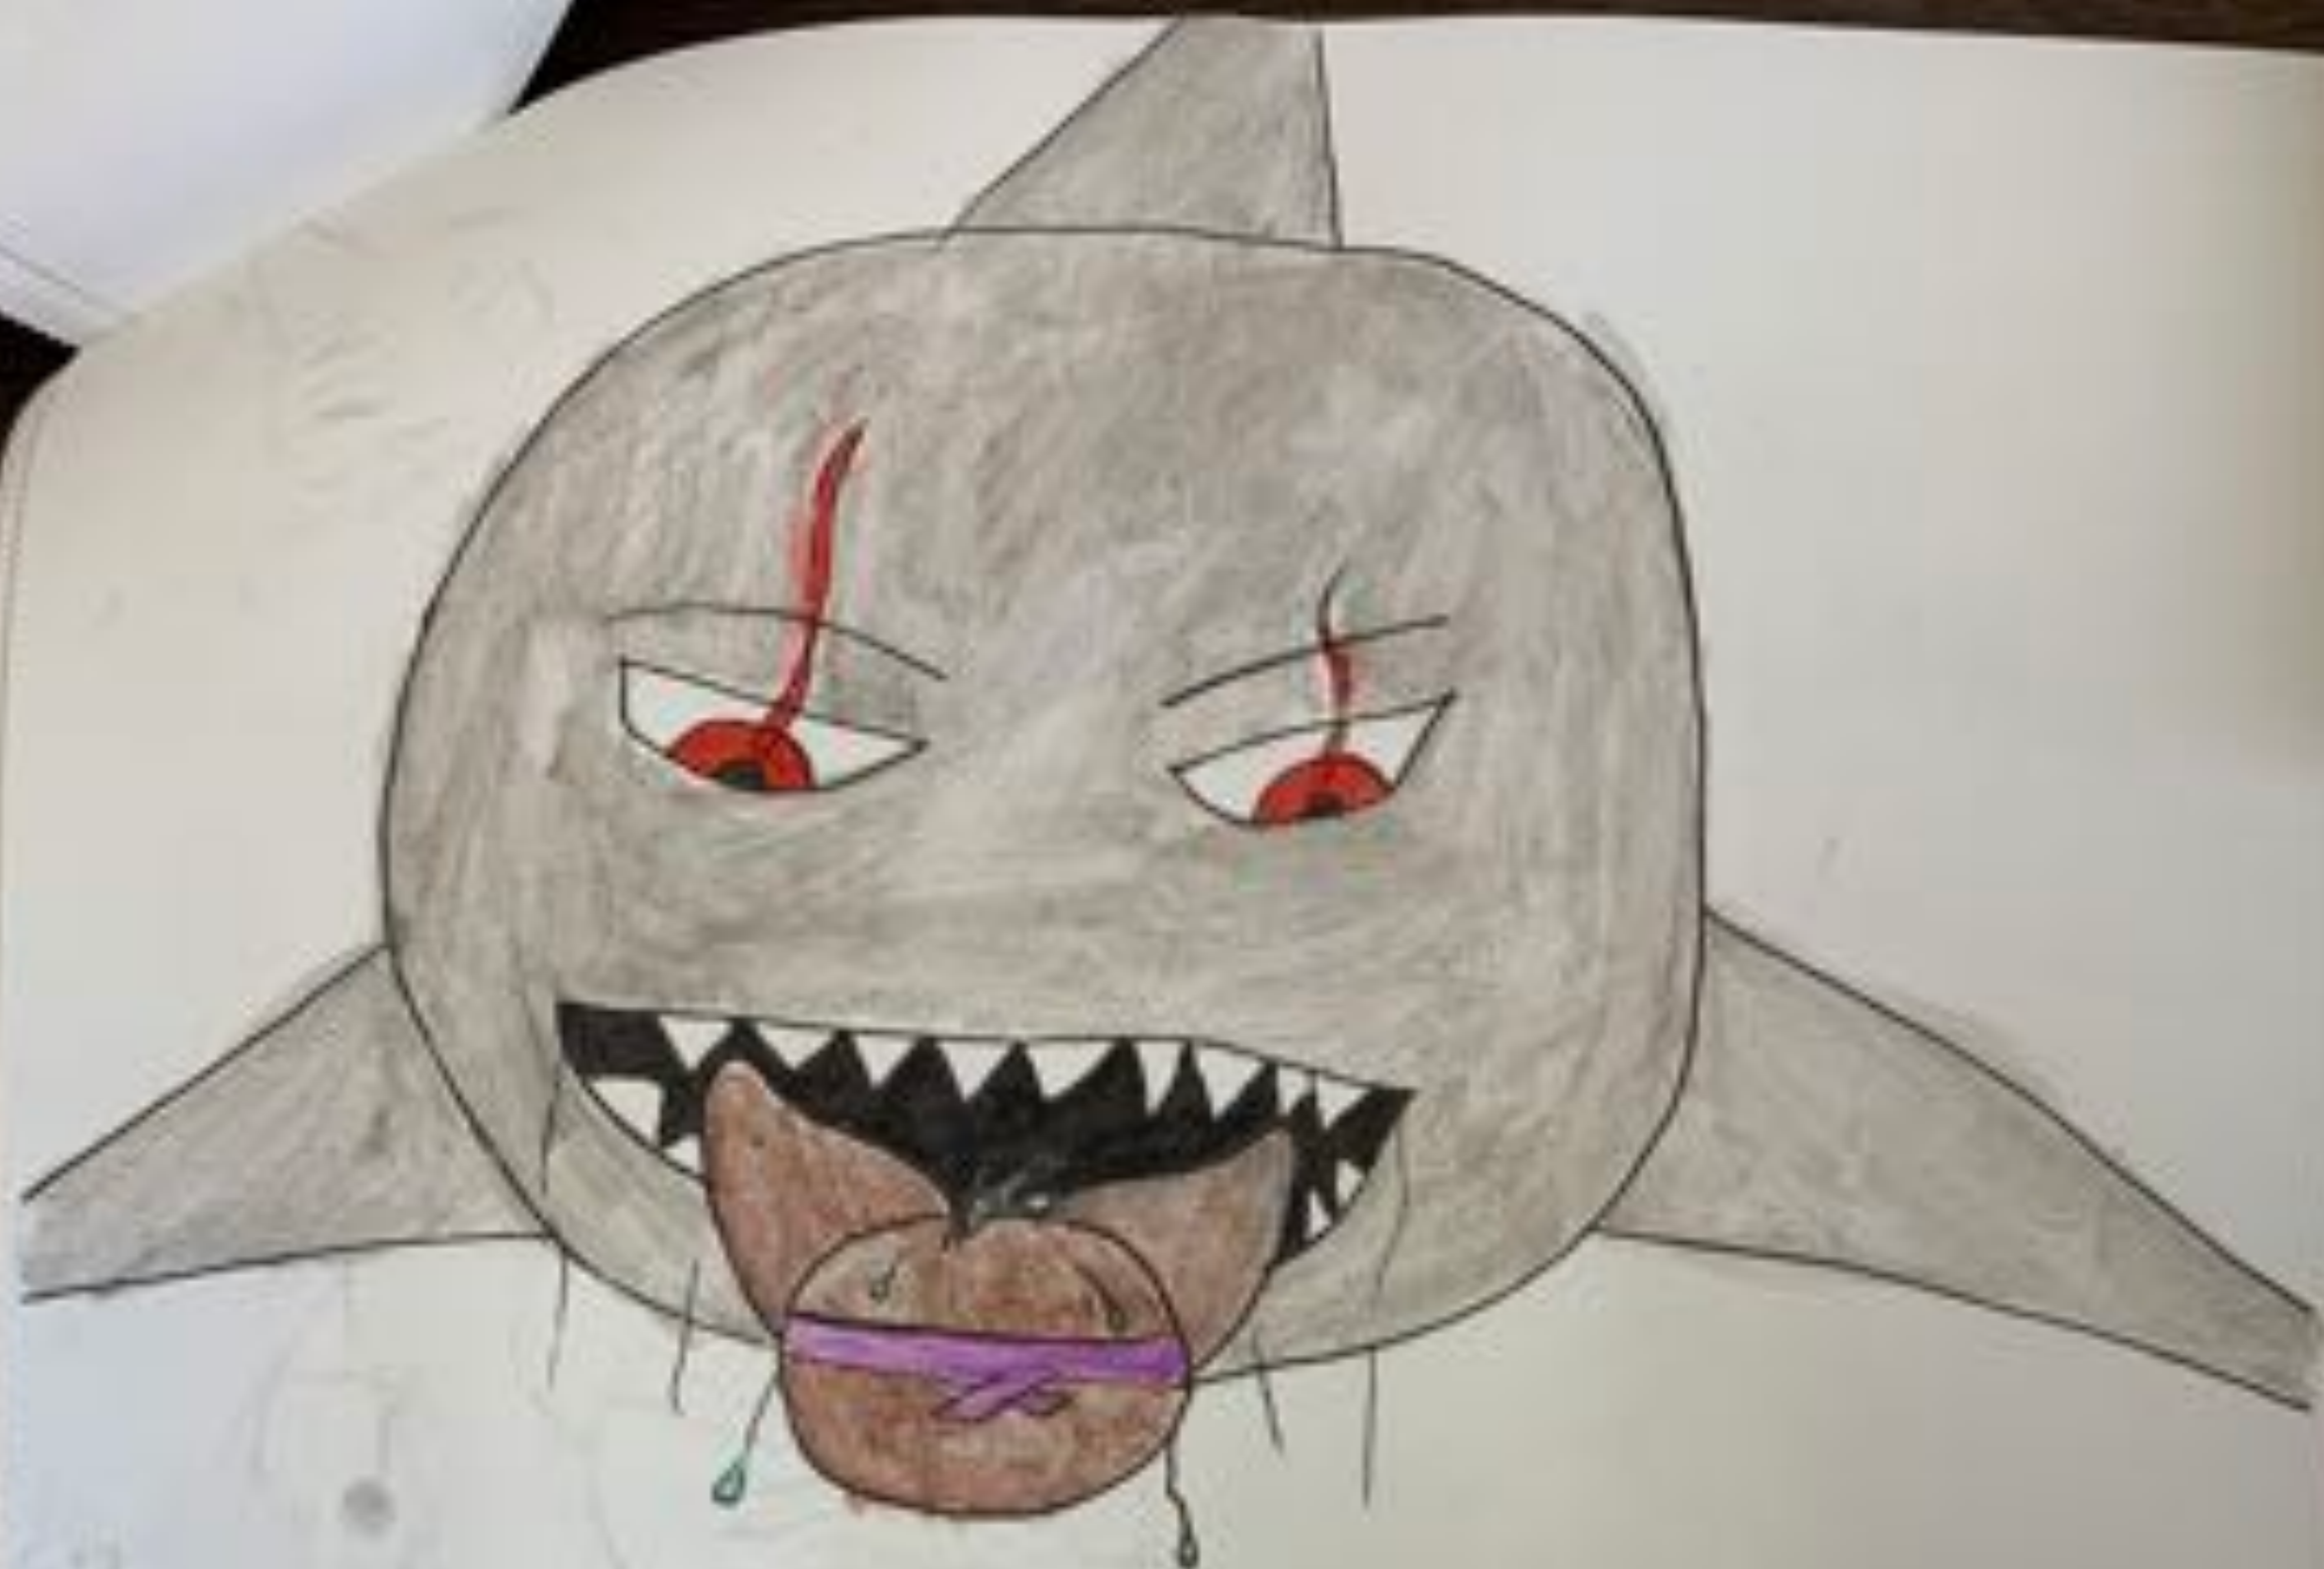

Now knowing the Super villain he has to face
one must come up with a great villain name to fit.
To be a real hero the little bat decides to battle his NemesiS one on one.

And if the little bat heads out to fight his nemesis he will of course ask for some snacks.

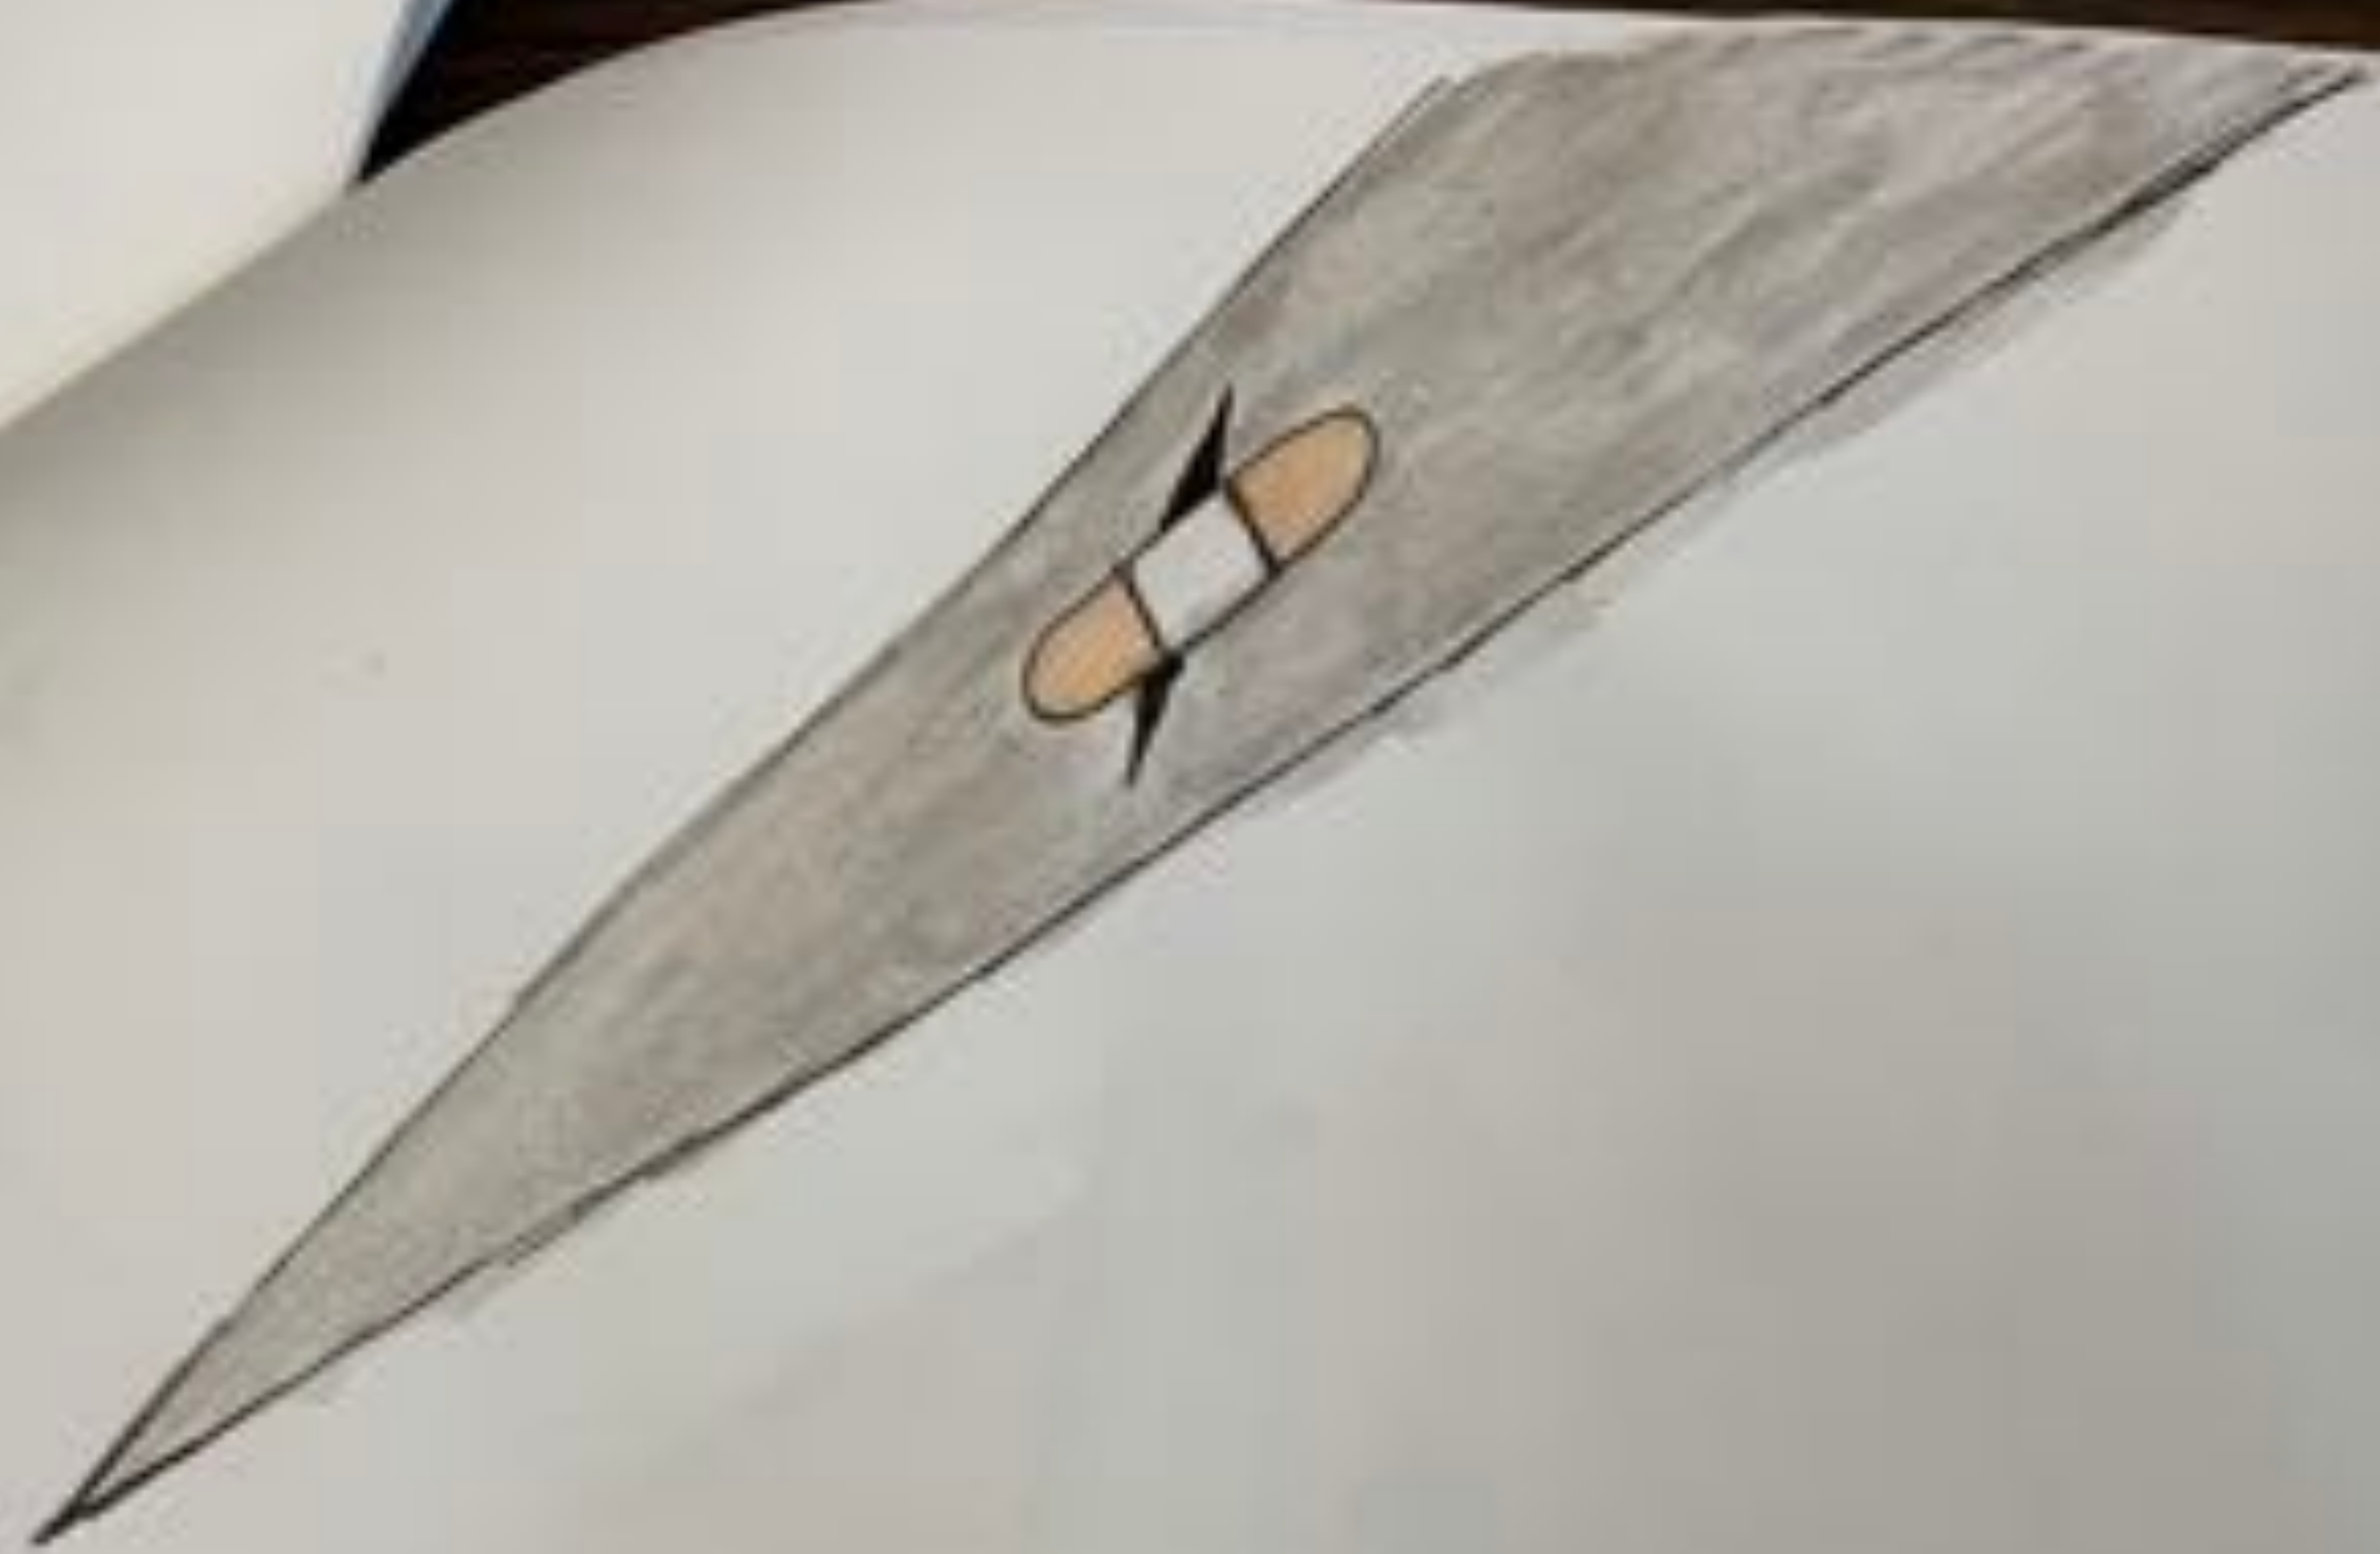

So the little bat heads off into the night, leaving the safety of the cave to fight in the dead of night, Hoping to get the upper hand with his spidey sense.

But he is still a little Bat in this Big world...

It takes all of his might to reach for the ninja star on his belt. In one quick motion he slings it at the beast hitting one of its arms leaving a mark.

Small cheers fill the air as the brave little bat returns to New Caveston. But something stays on the little bat's mind. So, he asks for a bandaid and returns to the defeated beast. Gently placing the bandaid over the mark on one of its arms. The beast doesn't seem so scary and not one bat has been sick since their battle.

So, the little Bat wants to team up with Dr. Bad Breath. And if the bat wants a side kick he will of course ask for another Cape.
